

Report to the Kentucky Library Association Board
Archives Ad Hoc Committee
Louisville, Kentucky
March 16, 2013

I contacted the University of Louisville to see if they would be interested in being the repository of the KLA Archives. I received an email back from Carrie Daniels, the University Archivist. They declined the collection as their collecting scope is really focused on the greater Louisville area. They suggested a repository with a statewide collecting scope. Their first suggestion was the Kentucky Historical Society and they mentioned U of K too.

I contacted Kent Whitworth of the Kentucky Historical Society and offered the archives to KHS. He has passed my email on to Louise Jones, Director of KHS Special Collections & Library and asked her to follow up with us. I am waiting for her to contact me.
